Joan

I understand but it's not my data to provide or request to approve.

I know Marty and Terry have been talking. Just work with them on what you guys are trying to do and then Whatever is decided we will make happen.

Joe, I understand that Marty McComb is working with Josh and Co. for data needs – I'm not involved in that. Still, it would be really helpful for CRGT to just be able to see the data for this incident as it happens and use it as a real-time, real-life ongoing example to get their processes figured out for when/if the next one comes along and Reggie, Tito, & etc do want us to be involved. I promise we won't interfere with the real incident. I realize that you're more in favor of keeping things within the Regions, but we here do have a mandate to be ready just in case.

thanks

Hi Jessica,

I checked with the response folks and it sounds like they have been communicating with Terry Smith about how best to work out a data flow with OEM.

So as not to over complicate things mid response their preference was to work things out with Terry first and then follow up with the database service if that is how it is decided things should go.

Hi Joe,

For right now, we would like to use it for testing purposes but Joan thought it would be good for us to start looking at it in case we need to fast track our efforts with SMA and begin publishing data.

Thanks,

Jess

Jessica,

Is this for testing purposes or does HQ have a need/mission to use the data?

Hello, could we get an enterprise subscription for the Gold King Mine Release project (and any other additional projects related to it in other Regions) in SCRIBE?

Thanks!
